Verbal Description:

This candelero fragment has an even, slightly concave base with a short incision. The chamber has a diameter greater than 2cm and is at an angle to the base. There is a rounded, 1cm thick, piece of clay applied to the chamber wall which is molded/smoothed into the base. The chamber is rounded + the applied piece is flat, leaving a crevice between them in which there is part of an applied strip of clay. The base is broken off in the side perpendicular to the applied wall. There is evidence of burning on all surfaces.
